Swain Techs CEO Completes Goldman Sachs' 10,000 Small Business Program

Horsham, PA — Swain Techs is pleased to announce that its CEO, Manuel Trujillo, has recently completed the Goldman Sachs' 10,000 Small Businesses program.

Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses is a program run by Goldman Sachs and the Goldman Sachs Foundation that provides entrepreneurs across the nation the resources, including education, business support services and capital, to grow their businesses and stimulate job growth. The program currently has locations in major cities across the United States including New York City, Los Angeles, Cleveland, and Houston, and has recently expanded into other major areas including Philadelphia.

According to Trujillo, making the choice to attend the program, despite the time commitment, was one of the best decisions he has made as a small business owner, as it has given him the tools needed to improve Swain Techs' strategic plan and also implement these tools into the business immediately. Leveraging the tools used in the program and with the help of the Minority Business Development Agency (MBDA), Swain Techs reached $1.5 million on access capital that will enable Swain Techs to bid contracts up to $90M in the Government and Private sector.

Trujillo was selected by the fellow participants as a speaker at the graduation ceremony, attended by Philadelphia Mayor Michael Nutter and senior Goldman Sachs executives.
